Discover the Potential of your HSA
Answers to three big HSA questions

1. What are the tax advantages?
2. If you don't use it, will you lose it?
3. Can you invest the money?
How much do you think a couple might spend on health care costs in retirement?
Healthcare expenses in retirement

The average couple retiring at the age of 65 will need $285,000 to cover their health care expenses in retirement.

How your HSA-eligible health plan and Fidelity HSA® work together

HSA-eligible health plan

- You pay a higher deductible, but the premiums are less
- Money saved can be put into HSA

Fidelity HSA®

- Flexibility to use for qualified medical expenses now or later
- Money is yours to keep
How much can you contribute?

Question 3: Can you invest the money?
Can you invest the money?

YES
The money in your HSA can be invested in:

1. HSA Funds to Consider
2. Securities (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, etc.)

Although there is no separate account fee to invest, commissions and other expenses associated with transacting or holding specific investments (e.g., mutual funds) may apply. Refer to the fees and commission schedule for additional detail at https://www.fidelity.com/trading/commissions-margin-rates
Contribute enough to cover current medical expenses

Consider investing the rest for the future

As with all your investments through Fidelity, you must make your own determination as to whether an investment in any particular security or securities is consistent with your investment objectives, risk tolerance, financial situation, and your evaluation of the security. 1. Estimate based on a hypothetical couple retiring in 2019, 65-years-old, with life expectancies that align with Society of Actuaries’ RP-2014 Healthy Annuitant rates with Mortality Improvements Scale MP-2016. Actual assets needed may be more or less depending on actual health status, area of residence, and longevity. Estimate is net of taxes: cost basis is assumed to equal market value. Estimate is calculated as the assets required today in a taxable account with an effective tax in retirement of 5%, an asset allocation of 30% equity, 50% bonds, and 20% cash, such that there is a 90% chance of being able to pay for healthcare expenses through life expectancy. The Fidelity Retiree Health Care Costs Estimate assumes individuals do not have employer-provided retiree health care coverage, but do qualify for the federal government’s insurance program, Original Medicare. The calculation takes into account cost-sharing provisions (such as deductibles and coinsurance) associated with Medicare Part A and Part B (inpatient and outpatient medical insurance). It also considers Medicare Part D (prescription drug coverage) premiums and out-of-pocket costs, as well as certain services excluded by Original Medicare. The estimate does not include other health-related expenses, such as over-the-counter medications, most dental services and long-term care. The retirement planning information contained herein is general in nature and should not be considered legal or tax advice. Fidelity does not provide legal or tax advice.
